ITS CLOSE BRINGS WORK TO THE AUDITOR OF STATE.

Institutions Kept Up by the Commonwealth.

AVERAGE DAILY POPULATION

TWELVE OF THE STATE INSTITU-TIONS REPORT EARNINGS.

uditor's Annual Report on Financial Affairs Will Be Ready for Distribution in January.

The State's fiscal year closed Oct. 31 and the state auditor has completed the work of tabulating the cost of maintenance and other expenses of all of the state's institutions. There are thirteen public institutions maintained by the State. They are the four hospitals for the insane, the four penal institutions, three educational institutions and the State Soldiers' Home and Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home.

Eight of these institutions reported their average daily population to the auditor of state as follows: Northern Hospital for the Insane, 791; Southern Hospital for the Insane, 617; Eastern Hospital, 656; Central Hospital, 1,774; Indiana Reformatory, 932; Industrial School for Girls and Women's Prison, 240; School for Feeble-minded, 909; Institution for Deaf and Dumb, 304. The other five institutions are not required to furnish a statement regarding their popula- death, and failed to find any marks of tion for appropriation purposes. EXPENDED FOR MAINTENANCE,

The latter was comunicated with and identi-Indiana Reformatory, $105,249.17; Girls' Industrial School and Woman's Prison, $36,-865.89; School for Feeble-minded, $111,604.96; State Prison, $98,162.53; Institution for the Blind, $29,997.28; Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home, $100,000; State Soldiers' Home $89,121.17; Reform School for Boys, $63,500. These figures aggregate a total for maintenance of $1,302,943.96. This item does not include expenditures for repairs, clothing, libraries, schools, trade schools, industrials, paroled or discharged persons or for additions to old buildings or erecting new build-The auditor's figures show that it costs for maintenance for one person for one year in eight of these institutions the following sum: Central Hospital for Insane, $155.58; Southern Hospital, $158.01; Northern Hospital for Insane, $158.29; Eastern Hospi-$161.22; School for Feeble-minded $111.72; Institution for Deaf and Dumb, $213 Indiana Reformatory, $112.89; Girls' School and Woman's Prison, $153.60. The remaining five institutions make no report to the auditor of their daily population and the cost per capita is not given.

EARNINGS REPORTED. Twelve of these institutions reported earnings. The Northern Hospital earned $166.65. The report does not show how this money was earned. The Southern Hospital earned $39.36, the Eastern Hospital $109.69 and the earnings of the Central Hospital amounted to $2,110.20. The Institution for the Blind earned $417.26, while the Deaf and Dumb Institute reported earnings in the sum of $709.03. The earnings at the School for Feeble-minded were $4,642.10. The State Soldiers' Home earned $269.33. The Reform earnings in the sum of $111.66. The earnings of the Industrial School for Girls and Woman's Prison amounted to $1,227.12. The two institutions reporting large earnings were the State Prison, $52,259.82, and the Indiana Reformatory, $66,003.77. The total earnings of all these institutions aggregate $128,065.99. The Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home reported no earnings. Some of the institutions did not use all their appropriation for maintenance and others wiped out the whole amount allotted them.

LARGEST BALANCE RETURNED. The largest balance returned to the State was from the Central Hospital for the Insane, which was $25,389.84. The smallest amount returned was from the Institution for the Blind. Its appropriation was $30,000, and of this amount $2.72 was returned to the State. The Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home, the State Soldiers' Home and the Reform School for Boys each expended the entire amount of its appropriation. The auditor's annual report showing the financial condition of the State, receipts from all sources and expenditures in all directions and all balances in the state treasury or chargeable to the state treasury will be published and ready for circulation in January or February. It is estimated that the income to the State from taxation for 1904 will be from $200,000 to $300,000 greater than from the same source in 1903. This estimate is based on the fact that the rate of taxation will be the same, but the valuation of property of all kinds was increased by WEST VIRGINIA MEN INSPECT KELthe tax officers this year.

J. OTTIS ADAMS'S PICTURES.

Ten Gems Portraying Indiana Scenes on Exhibition at Lieber's.

An exhibit of ten paintings by J. Ottis Adams, now on display in the Lieber gallery is an exhibit of ten gems. Mr. Adams is a member of the deservedly famous Indiana group and these pictures with a single exception are Indiana scenes-bits of the picturesque country about Brookville, on the Whitewater, a favorite haunt of artists. "The Ebb of Day," the largest of Mr. Adams's canvases, is the notable canvas of the little exhibit. It would be a notable canvas in any exhibit, however large. The composition is a most attractive one-a bend of the river, shut in by high banks, the further bank showing the rich gold and red of the clay soil beneath the foliage and underbrush, with hills stretching beyond into the background. But it is in the water that Mr. Adams has achieved his finest effect. In the foreground the water has the prismatic coloring which made "The Irides-P. MULLALLY DIAMONDS and cence of a Shallow Stream" by the same artist one of the remarkable pictures of last year's exhibits. Beyond this ripple of color the water surface flashes back the dazzling radiance of the sunset, which is caught also by the foliage on the bank. The picture is beyond a doubt the masterpiece of Mr.

"Sycamores," No. 2, is also especially haply in composition, and the effect of light and shade-the splash of sunshine just beyond the shadow of the great tree and the report, but it was learned later that the real reflection in the still pool in the foreground object of their the water effection in the still pool in the foreground object of their the Kelly plant.

The brooding somberness of the overhanging hills, outlined against a twilight sky, is cast back by the darkened water at the foot. No. 10, "Wash- Jew, Daniel, and his life in the Chaldean day," is the only picture in the exhibit done in another locality. It shows a woman's figure at the tub, in a quaint old world setting, and forms a sharp contrast to the on Dec. 8. other canvases. One of the canvases, "Summer," No. 8, was done in oil used as pastel and the canvas, while attractive in color and effect, has not the exquisitely finished quality that marks the other pictures. The exhibit will be open through the week.

INSTRUCTION FOR LIBRARIANS

A Class Will Be Conducted at the Statehouse in January. A "class for librarians" is to be conducted at the statehouse Jan. 18 to 30 by the Public Library Commission of Indiana, in response to a request from librarians of the State for elementary instruction in this work. Only those librarians will be admitted to the class who have had a four years' high school course and who are creditably filling library positions. Members of library boards will be invited to Instruction will be given to the class in the form of lectures supplemented by prac-tical work, with books. The following topics will be presented: Selection of books, order lists, accessions, shelf-lists, classification books, numbering and charging system. Practical talks on library adminis-tration will be given by Miss Hoagland, secretary of the library commission. Miss Anna R. Phelps, a graduate of the New York State Library School, will be the class's instructor.

DEAD IN UNIVERSITY PARK

LIFELESS BODY OF HERBERT L CALL, OF ELWOOD, FOUND.

His Father Is the Police Judge of that Town-Death Due to Heart Disease and Cigarettes.

The lifeless body of Herbert L. Call, son John W. Call, police judge at Elwood, Ind., was found yesterday morning lying a little west of the large fountain in University Park, and from the general appearance of the surroundings, Dr. Sheek, of the City Dispensary, was unable to discover anything about the cause of his violence on the body.

In Call's pockets were found clippings The amount expended for maintenance the papers, showing that he had evidently alone for these institutions is as follows: been looking for work. Some cards were Northern Hospital for Insane, $124,238.41; also found bearing the name of Edward pital, $105,798.49; Central Hospital, $276,012.36; | fled the body. The dead man had several dunning him for money, from A. L. Vestal, of Elwood. The body was taken to Kregelo's undertaking establishment and there Institution for Deaf and Dumb, $64,839.39; Dr. Geis, deputy coroner, held an autopsy on the body, which showed that death was caused by heart trouble, hastened by the excessive use of cigarettes.

NEW COMPLICATION OF RELATION-SHIP BROUGHT OUT.

Question Propounded by Judge Anderson Elicits Startling Information-Roush's Case.

There are cousins and half cousins an complications of both, but a cousin and a half is a new combination. Yesterday in the trial of George Roush, a colored man, in the Federal Court, a witness was placed on the stand and asked by Judge Ander-

"What relation to you is the defendant?" "He is a cousin and a half," replied the witness. "You probably don't understand where the half cousin comes in, but my mother and his mother were sisters and his father and my father were half broth-School for Boys reported an aggregate of ers, therefore he is a cousin and a half

Roush is charged with having worked a short change scheme on Mary Reiss, a pretty young postmistress of Clinton, Ind. He was arraigned before a jury yesterday and his case argued throughout the afternoon. The jury failed to return a verdict last night, but will report this morning.

The game which Roush is said to have worked is the old ten-dollar racket. He entered the postoffice at Clinton and asked postmistress for 9 cents' worth of stamps and handed her a ten-dollar bill When she returned with his change he put down a dime, saying that he had found change in his pocket, and asked that the bill be returned to him. In the complication of the exchange Roush came out $5 ahead, so it is charged. At least the accounts of the postmistress were $5 short in the evening. Roush admits having received the $5, but claims the mistake was entirely unintentional. Roush is said to have served several months in the Illinois State prison in 1891 on a charge of manslaughter. He was pardoned after eleven

LY AX PLANT AT ALEXANDRIA.

Piloted on Their Trip by Mortimer Levering and John L. Griffiths -Work on Big Deal.

Negotiations are pending for the sale of the Kelly Ax Factory at Alexandria to company of West Virginia capitalists. A party of nine prominent men from Charlesthat State, were at Alexandria yesterday to inspect the plant, and it is understood that the deal may be closed at any time, although it is probable that the party will make another visit to the factory before the negotiations are concluded.

In the party were Fred Paul Grosscup, Capt. A. M. Scott, F. Burdell, H. A. Robinson, Charles Capito, C. L. Payne, D. C. Boyce, C. C. Lewis and John Dickinson. John L. Griffiths and Mortimer Levering, of this city, accompanied the visitors to Alexandria and brought them back to Indianapolis last night. Messrs. Griffiths and Levering entertained the party at dinner at the Columbia Club last night and this morning the visitors will leave for Charleston. None of the party would discuss the object of their visit to Indiana, beyond stat-ing that they were looking for investments and were looking over various properties in the Indiana oil and gas belt. It was reported that a big oil land deal was on and the visitors were inclined to encourage this object of their trip was the inspection of

WARREN HART IS FATALLY WOUND-ED BY DETECTIVES.

After Being Placed Under Arrest, H Started to Run Away and Asch and Manning Fired.

CHARGED WITH CRACKING SAFE

IS CLAIMED HE WAS IMPLICATED IN ROBBING BORENSTEIN & CO.

Parents with Him at the City Hospital During the Night-Little Hope for Recovery.

Warren Hart, 334 East Norwood street, lies at the City Hospital in a critical condition as a result of a bullet wound received at the hands of Detectives Asch and Manning, from whom he was attempting to make his escape after being placed under arrest yesterday morning. The detectives had information which convinced them that Hart was one of a gang of young boys who recently cracked the safe in the office of Borenstein & Co., on South East street, and yesterday they located him at Wright's coal yard, where he has been employed for some time as a wagon

Detectives Asch and Manning at once placed the young man under arrest, but before they could put their hands on him he turned and ran through the coal office and darted into an adjoining saloon, passing through the rear door and out into an

CLOSE AT HIS HEELS. The detectives were close on his heels, and they ordered him to stop, as he was last bullet went wide of the mark. One of the first shots fired struck the fleeing fugitive in the back and entered the intestines. He stopped running as soon as he realized that he had been shot, and when the detectives overtook him and found that the boy was injured they at once called the City Dispensary ambulance, and under the care of Dr. Sheek and Police Surgeon Wright Hart was removed to the City Hospital.

At the hospital last night an operation to remove the bullet was to have been performed, but Hart's condition became so serious that hope of saving his life by an operation was given up, and it is feared that he cannot recover. His parents were notified last night of his condition, and all night long they sat at his side hoping against hope for a change for the better. DETECTIVES WORRIED

Hart claims after being shot that he had not been near Borenstein's place, but he was arrested a year ago for entering the junkshop and pilfering it, and his general reputation for truth is said to be bad. The detectives, while greatly worried over the condition of the young man, assert that they have eye-witness who will testify that Hart was a member of the gang that broke into the safe in the office of the junkshop, and feel that they were not entirely wrong in shooting at the young man when he Hart, it is said, had often made boasts to friends that no policeman in the city could catch him, and he was known among his friends as a daring character. Late last night at the City Hospital it was said that Hart's condition was not changed and no hope is held out for his recovery.

JOHN C. SNEE, PENNSYLVANIA PAY-MASTER, BRINGS SUIT.

Nearly $20,000 Forcibly Taken from Him to Satisfy Judgments-Federal Court News.

John C. Snee, of Columbus, O., paymaster of the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railway Company, yesterday filed a suit in replevin in the Federal Court against the City National Bank of Logansport, and Frank R. Fowler, cashier of the bank. The case is a peculiar one in that it is to recover $20,000 charged to have been taken the complainant and City National Bank, complainant take a description of the bills and notes. Judgment on the amount taken, which was $19,705.99, and damages to the amount of $3,500 are asked by the complainant. The complainant charges that the money was seized and unlawfully and forcibly taken from the complainant between 7 and o'clock on the morning of Nov. 19 by Lewis Beckley, Silas Morgan, Charles Emery and Floyd Richardson and with the connivance of Albert B. Jenkins, Stuart T. McConnell and Charles Yarlott, was turned over to McConnell and placed in the City National Bank; that the cashier, Frank Fowler, who had charge of the property, refused to allow the defendant's attorney to take a description of the bills, saying that it could be done later. But later the cashier left town and John Gray, president of the bank, declared that no description of the money would be allowed. The money was taken from Snee by Sheriff Beckley and his assistants to satisfy two judgments in favor of Thomas H Collins and George W. Leightheiser, for-mer employes of the railway company, who were injured on the road. A few minutes before the seizure was made, the money was placed in a strong iron box. which was broken open by the sheriff with a double-edged axe, and $19,705.99, the amount asked for in the execution, was counted out. The money was intrusted to Snee's assistant to be carried a distance rates to students and teachers upon proper of two blocks. The assistant was stopped just as he was entering the bank.

Desire Absolute Accounting.

Attorneys for Frederick Chase, guardian of Moses Fowler Chase, yesterday filed in the Federal Court their amended complaint asking of Charles and Ophelia Duhme an accounting of all the property belonging to Moses Fowler Chase while the young man was under their care and they had charge of his property. The estate, the complaint says, was val-ued at over $400,000. The sale of stocks and bonds and the appropriation of the proceeds to their own purposes is one of the many charges in the bill of complaint. Recklessness and waste in the management of the estate, especially in caring for the farms and other real estate of the young millionaire, is also charged.

INDIANA SCHOOLS WILL BE PIC-TURED AT WORLD'S FAIR.

Department of Public Instruction Sends Out Letters to Township Teachers Asking Co-Operation.

The Department of Public Instruction of the State has sent out additional information regarding the educational exhibit at the St. Louis exposition. In its instructions to county superintendents the department says that histories of each township outrunning them, but, as he did not obey, are to be prepared and the best from each both officers leveled their revolvers and township sent to the department. A stenofired. Asch shot at the boy twice, but the graphic report of at least one of the best schools in the county is desired for the State exhibit and the county superintendent is asked to select the school to be reported. It is requested that the stenographer remain in the school all day in order that a complete and accurate report may be made of all that is said and done by teacher and pupils.

The department requests that seventh grade pupils draw maps of the county, giving the location of the school buildings. The best of these should be sent to the county superintendent.

"Probably the greatest emphasis at this exposition will be placed on photographs," the department says in its last circular, "hence if you can arrange to have some excellent views of schools it will add much to the exhibit from your schools. If you can enlist your teachers, especially those in the township high schools, to assist in collecting some good drawings, it will be a valuable contribution to your exhibit. It may be that you will be able to send models of old school furniture and old text-books. If you can do this, please report it soon." In a bulletin issued for the benefit of city and town superintendents the department says that histories of Indiana cities are to be prepared either by eighth grade or the high school pupils, as the superintendent may decide. The best history is to be sent to the county superintendent. A stenographic report of at least one of the best schools in each city should be made and sent to the county superintendent. The department trusts that superintendents will remember that they are at liberty to make suggestions and to report individual and unique phases of work which are not suggested in the circulars.

Commercial Club Interested.

An attempt will be made by the Commercial Club to secure the enforcement of the anti-spitting ordinance that is now in effect. A meeting of the committee on city interest was held yesterday at which the question was discussed and a plan outlined to have the law carried out. Several other matters of general importance were discussed at the meeting, among them the question of restricting the size of billboards and their distance from the street. It was decided that the various billboard men of the city should be visited and an agreement made with them as to the restrictions. The question of long parades was given a good deal of time. The ordinance proposed by Councilman J. L. Gasper restricting the length of down-town processions was commended by members of the committee. It was agreed that funerals should be kept off the down-town streets as much as possible and when it is impossible, arrangements should be made so that they could be broken in places and thus not delay
